

Originally published by Banker & Tradesman

Housing Policy Ripe for Reforms

Simple Solutions Could Unlock Infill Development Sites

By Edward R. Bradford | Special to Banker & Tradesman | Mar 30, 2025

TAT Principal Ed Bradford discusses the final report from Gov. Maura Healey's Unlocking Housing Production Commission and how potential policy shifts and new approaches could address the housing crisis. Ed shows that even small shifts in land use policy and building codes, such as single-stair and parking reform, could generate thousands of new housing units.

Read the article in Banker & Tradesman.